Sour bread is caused by poor yeast, or an excessive fermentation in the dough. Sour biscuits are caused by the ise of an adulterated; impure, or unproperly compounded baking powder. Both are unwholesome, producing intesund derangements, indigestion, etc.

The sour or alkaline taste attending the use of cheap, on grade baking powders is due to the fact that such powliers are not properly combined, and that the ingredients used in them are impure. The cream of tartar of the market? used by their manufacturers is adulterated from five to twenty per cent. They do not know how much lime it contains, and hence are unable to mix it with the alkali or soda in proper proportions. As high as 11 85 per cent of hme has been found by the chemists in some of these powders, due to these causes. The result is an imperfect action which renders the bread, biscuit, or pastry heavy, sour, and disagreeable, or a residuum of lime and dist, unparting a bitter taste to the food. Any baking powder that does this is unfit for use.

There can be no heavy or sour bread, biscuit, on cake where a perfectly made pure baking powder, like the "Royal," is used. In the use of the Royal no residuum is left, and the loaf raised by it is always sweet, light, and wholesome, and noticeably free from the peculiar tastes complained of This is because it is composed of nothing but absolutely pure materials, scientifically combined in exactly the proper proportions of acid and alkalı to act upon and destroy each other, while producing the largest amount of raising power. We are justified in this assertion by the unqualified statements of the Government Chemists, who, after thorough and exhaustive tests, recommended the "Royal" for Government use because of its superior ity over all others in purity, strength, and wholesomeness There is no danger of sour or bitter bread or biscuit where the Royal Baking Powder alone is used

Git right on top than, and we'll be started pretty quick." This cheery invitation, accompanied by a hearty shake of the hand, lett no doubt as to the cord allty of the owner's welcome to the welter, says the Boston Herald, as he stepped from the train at Glen station, intent on a pligrim-age to the New Glen. The speaker was one of those reminders of many hours happly spent in the past -in days previous to the time when the iron horse with zhint stridest entered these domains, but which, thank fortune, he has been unable to cutirely take from us-s genulee type of the old fashioned. A crack of the whilets "git long than," and sented on the top of the okl-fightioned couch, belind six dashing horses, the lourney is begun. It is a charming trip, and it is not possible to describe the succession of besuties in nature that themselve, to the cye on every side, in this ride down the raylnes, through pretty vales surrounded by trees, whose foliage seemes to change on every hand as we down by, beside and over rushing mountain streams, and through that wenderful work of nature's thand, the Finkham notch, with its many indescribable points of interest, each seeming more unjestle and more beautiful than, the other, till at length we find ourselves entering the Glen. In it the Glen? It does not look natural; it seems as though the good intry off fable must have some and touched with her magle wand the old Glen Rouse, with its blank, white walls, and transformed it into a many-colored model of morderi suchitectural beauty, but all doubt is julickly set at rest as to the identity of the place by the sight of one who always makes the traveller feel at home on entering the Glen—the genial landidyd, Mr. Charles R.
